- Mission Critical, No. 8 (Gray Man) Greaney, Mark. Traveling on a CIA transport plane where a mysterious man in custody is being transported for a joint CIA-MI6 interrogation, Court Gentry assumes his identity as the Gray Man operative when their group is attacked by kidnapping assassins.

FICTION: Fantasy

- The Kingdom of Copper, No. 2 (The Daevabad Trilogy) Chakraborty, S. A. A follow-up to the USA Today best-selling The City of Brass finds a trapped Nahri reluctantly embracing her power to safeguard her tribe, while an exiled Ali accepts help from water spirits who unearth a family secret.
- Early Riser Fforde, Jasper. The best-selling author of the Nursery Crimes series imagines the reader as a first-winter employee with the misfit Winter Consuls, who protect the world's hibernating masses until an outbreak of viral nightmares starts triggering mysterious deaths.
- Black Leopard, Red Wolf, No. 1 (The Dark Star Trilogy) James, Marlon. Hired to find a mysterious boy who disappeared three years before, Tracker joins a search party that is quickly targeted deadly creatures, in the first novel of a new trilogy from the author of A Brief History of Seven Killings.

- The Ruin of Kings, No. 1, (Chorus of Dragons) Lyons, Jenn. Raised on storybook tales of royal adventure, Kihrin discovers his identity as the illegitimate son of a treasonous prince and is rendered a pawn in the royal family's power schemes before embracing his anti-hero destiny.
- Endgames, No. 12 (Imager Portfolio) Modesitt, L. E. Surviving an assassination attempt, only to see the land of Solidar descending into war, young ruler Charyn fights to end the turmoil that is giving the High Holders disproportionate power over the realm's struggling commoners.
- Reckoning of Fallen Gods, No. 2 (Coven) Salvatore, R. A. The god-defeating Aoelyn and Talmadge, the trader she saved at the cost of everything personal, become the defenders of their land when a fallen empire of fanatics reemerges to claim the world they believe is their own.

FICTION: General

- Golden Child Adam, Claire. Working exhausting hours in their rural Trinidad home, the family of a petroleum plant worker is shattered by the disappearance of a troubled twin son whose fate forces his father to make a devastating choice.
- When You Read This Adkins, Mary. After his friend, Iris, dies from a terminal illness at age 33, PR genius Smith Simonyi teams up with Iris' sister, Jade, to make Iris' final request—to get her blog posts published as a book—a reality.
- Leading Men Castellani, Christopher. A life-changing encounter among Tennessee Williams, his lover Frank Merlo and a taciturn Swedish beauty at a 1953 Truman Capote party culminates in deathbed revelations about Williams' final play a decade later.
- The Last Romantics Conklin, Tara. A fictional poet describes the Connecticut summer when she and her siblings ran wild as the inspiration for her most iconic work.
- Elsy Come Home Conley, Susan. Agreeing to attend a mountain retreat with her estranged husband, an alcoholic artist living China rediscovers herself through new friendships that help her confront the deep-rooted ghosts of her childhood.
- The Falconer Czapnik, Dana. In 1993 New York, 17-year-old street-smart, trash-talking baller Lucy Adler finds her comfortable life playing pick-up games with her unrequited love, Percy, thrown into turmoil when a pair of female artists draw her into their world.
- Willa & Hesper Feltman, Amy. A story told from alternating perspectives traces the whirlwind romance of two women who are separated when one returns home to uncover her grandfather's story and the other heartbrokenly embarks on a Holocaust tour.
- The Curiosities Gloss, Susan. As she tries to have a baby with her husband, Nell Parker takes command of an art colony full of eccentrics.
- The Care and Feeding of Ravenously Hungry Girls Gray, Anissa. When their formidably strong-willed eldest sister is arrested, abruptly transitioning their family from respectability to disgrace, two younger sisters confront complicated dynamics in their family and identities to uncover what really happened.
- Late in the Day Hadley, Tessa. When their close friend, Lydia, who is inconsolable after the death of her husband, Zach, moves in with them, Christine and Alex find love and sorrow giving way to anger and bitterness, warping their relationships as old entanglements and grievances rise from the past.
- The Accidental Further Adventures of the Hundred-year-old Man, No. 2 (The Hundread-year-old Man) Jonasson, Jonas. When a hot air balloon ride results in a diplomatic crisis of epic proportions, 100-year-old Allan Karlsson and his irresistible sidekick Julius embark on yet another hilarious adventure.
- Unmarriageable Kamal, Soniah. A retelling of Pride and Prejudice, set in modern-day Pakistan, finds a practical-minded teacher from a family of sisters evaluating her resolve never to marry after encountering a brusque but compelling man during a series of lavish wedding parties.
- The White Book Kang, Han. A lyrical exploration of personal grief, conveyed through the prism of the color white, finds a nameless writer grappling with a haunting family tragedy involving the infancy death of her older sister.
- 99 Nights in Logar Kochai, Jamil Jan. A trepidatious return visit to a family compound in Afghanistan finds a disastrous encounter with a terrifying but beloved guard dog leading to a 12-year-old boy's mythology-laced search through the landscape of contemporary Logar.
- Talent Lapidos, Juliet. An English grad student struggling with her dissertation about the intellectual history of inspiration desperately searches for a perfect case study to anchor her thesis, only to find it in the unlikeliest of places.

- Where Reasons End: A Story Cycle Li, Yiyun. The award-winning author of Kinder Than Solitude draws on her experiences of losing a child to suicide in a poignant tribute to the love and complexities of parent-child bonds that reimagines an urgent conversation between a mother and teenage son.
- Such Good Work Lichtman, Johannes. Prompted by his drug addiction and latest dismissal to relocate to 2015 Sweden, a creative-writing instructor volunteers to teach Swedish to Middle Eastern refugees, including one who challenges his views about making an actual difference.
- Good Riddance Lipman, Elinor. Discarding her late mother's cherished and heavily annotated high school yearbook, Daphne is entangled in a series of absurdities when the yearbook is discovered by a busybody documentary filmmaker.
- The Heavens Newman, Sandra. A New Yorker named Kate often dreams she is transported to the past—where she lives a second life as Emilia, the mistress of a nobleman in Elizabethan England—but soon, the dream becomes increasingly real and compelling until it threatens to overwhelm her life.
- A Dog Called Jack Pembroke, Ivy. Abandoned dog Jack finds a collective family in the residents of Christmas Street—a group of people who just might need Jack as much as he needs them.
- The Secret of Clouds Richman, Alyson. An English teacher with haunting childhood memories gains perspective and inspiration while tutoring a young Ukrainian immigrant whose serious health issues prevent him from taking any day for granted.
- The Study of Animal Languages Stern, Lindsay. A logic-driven professor of philosophy is forced by a series of crises to confront a growing estrangement in his marriage to his free-spirited, passionate biolinguistics pioneer wife.
- House of Stone Tshuma, Novuyo Rosa. After their son, Bukhosi, disappears in the chronic turmoil of modern Zimbabwe, Abednego and Agnes Mlambo receive help from their enigmatic lodger, Zamani.
- The Inbetween Days Woods, Eva. A comatose woman revisits memories from her past, but will she get a second chance at life, love and happiness?
